Important Travel Update: Naples Airport in November 2026

Travellers should be aware that Naples Capodichino Airport is closed to air traffic throughout November 2026 because of major runway and taxiway refurbishment work. Some flights have been redirected to alternative airports, including Salerno. Always check your airline confirmation and airport code before travelling.

The transportation options described below are the usual choices when Naples Airport is operating normally. If your flight is scheduled during the closure, arrange your transfer from the airport shown on your updated booking.

What Are the Best Ways to Reach Naples City Centre?

When the airport is operating, passengers have several ways to reach central Naples. The most suitable option depends on your arrival time, accommodation location, and travel requirements.

1. Alibus Airport Shuttle

Alibus is a dedicated airport shuttle connecting Naples Airport with important locations in the city. Its main stops include Piazza Garibaldi, near Napoli Centrale railway station, and the port area around Molo Beverello.

The journey to the central railway station usually takes approximately 15 minutes under normal traffic conditions, while reaching the port takes longer. It is a practical option for solo travellers and visitors carrying manageable luggage.

Check the latest timetable and ticket information before travelling, as schedules may change.

2. Official Airport Taxi

Taxis offer direct transportation from the airport to hotels, railway stations, and other destinations in Naples. They can be convenient if you are travelling with children, elderly family members, or multiple suitcases.

Naples has predetermined taxi fares for certain routes. Ask the driver for the applicable fixed fare before starting your journey and use the authorised taxi rank.

3. Private Airport Transfer

A private vehicle is suitable for travellers who prefer a pre-arranged pickup and direct transportation to their accommodation.

You can select a vehicle according to your group size and luggage requirements. This option can be particularly convenient for families, couples, and groups arriving after a long international flight.

4. Public Transportation Connections

Naples has railway, metro, and bus connections that can help visitors explore different parts of the city. Depending on your accommodation, you may use Napoli Centrale as a connection point for onward travel.

However, passengers carrying heavy luggage should consider the number of transfers and walking distances before selecting public transportation.

How Much Does It Cost to Travel from Naples Airport to the City Centre?

The transportation cost depends on the service you choose and your final destination.

Alibus is generally an economical option, with a single ticket listed at around €5. Official taxis have predetermined fares for selected routes, such as approximately €21 to the central railway station and €24 to the port area. These amounts should be reconfirmed before travel because local fares and conditions can change.

Private transfers have different prices depending on the vehicle category, passenger count, luggage, and booking arrangements.

Compare the complete fare before making a reservation. Check whether waiting time, additional luggage, tolls, or other services are included.

How Long Does It Take to Reach Central Naples?

The journey duration depends on traffic and the transportation method.

By Alibus, the trip to Piazza Garibaldi generally takes around 15 minutes in normal conditions. A taxi or private vehicle may take approximately 15–30 minutes, depending on the destination and road conditions.

During busy periods, traffic can increase journey times. If you have a train, ferry, or hotel check-in appointment, allow additional time.

Before booking your transportation, consider these important factors:

- Destination: Check the exact location of your hotel or accommodation.
- Passenger capacity: Select a vehicle that comfortably accommodates everyone.
- Luggage space: Confirm that your suitcases will fit.
- Pickup arrangements: Understand where the driver will meet you.
