Understanding American Airlines Pet Policy

- American Airlines allows eligible small cats and dogs to travel in the cabin on qualifying flights.
- Passengers must follow approved pet carrier specifications for safe transportation.
- Pets must meet airline requirements regarding size, age, and travel conditions.
- Pet acceptance depends on aircraft type, route restrictions, and available space.

Traveling with Dogs and Cats in the Cabin

Small dogs and cats may travel inside an approved carrier under the seat in front.

The pet must remain inside its carrier throughout the flight.

Passengers are generally required to be at least 18 years old to travel with a pet.

Cabin pet space is limited, so advance arrangements are recommended.

Pet Carrier Requirements

1. Choose a soft-sided, collapsible carrier that fits comfortably under the passenger seat.

2. The recommended soft-sided carrier dimensions are 18 × 11 × 11 inches.

3. Ensure the carrier is secure, padded, leak-resistant, and properly ventilated.

4. Your dog or cat must fit comfortably inside the closed carrier during the flight.

American Airlines Pet Travel Fees

The carry-on pet fee is generally $150 per kennel, each way, on eligible routes.

Pet fees are nonrefundable and may apply separately for connecting segments.

Cargo transportation charges vary depending on the route, pet size, and kennel.

Confirm the applicable fee and payment requirements before traveling.
