Dear Kathy,

Thank you for what is,in my estimation,the best issue of the fan club mag to date.It was a pleasure leafing through the pages and finding out many of what must be very personel details about your life.It takes a courageous person to put forth before her adoring public so many of the little incidents and private goings on that most people would prefer to forget,such as the unpleasent affair of the broken INTERNATIONAL FALCON and the time consuming stay in Gilroy,Ca.,which,as you state in your article,very few of us have ever heard of.I,however,had the unfortunate experience of passing through Gilroy,and I must agree that it is not frequently included in the itinerary of many tourists.However,as a place to purchase gasoline,or pick up a metro bite to eat,it cant be beat.Sorry,the rhyme was unintended,but unavoidable.As you can imagine,it gets awfully lonely floundering about in a morass of your own cleverness, but if one is not permited to at least be ostensibly humerous,then one must seek other,perhaps more risky,means ,of realising the primal instinct to become,and hopefully remain amused.To consciously avoid a noble manifestation or display of humour is like purchasing a splendid chandelier only quitter vos visiteurs dans une chambre noire. Analogy,as a literary device,is a useful and often helpful tool in expressing abstract concepts or highly technical material.However, when corresponding with a friend,such as you are dear Kathmann, it is advisable to avoid unnecessary figures of speech,less you run the risk of sounding pretentious or too smart for your ownor anyone elses good. Also,it is occasionally convenient to borrow from other languages. This writer,however,from sheer exuberance,and a desire to show off, sprinkles his letters liberally with foreign expressions,with little regard for the readers comfort.I realise that it is a bad habit. Dont use it.Write in Anglaise.

Well,all I really meant to say was thanks for the fan club dog, merry Xmas and sign me up for another years subscrip.Ta,cheers,etc.

Anticipating the pleasure of further word from you,I am

Sporadically,

Colin Schock

MY BEST FRIEND

EVER WONDER JUST WHAT IT WAS LIKE TO BE ONE OF KATHY"S CLOSEST FREINDS??? WELL, WONDER NO MORE. CAUSE HERE IT IS AS TOLD BY ONE OF INTERNATIONAL KATHY"S CLOSEST FRIENDS AND HER PERSONAL SECRETARY. ME!!! LAUREL SYLVANUS. WOW!!!

What's it like to be Kathy's best friend?? Well, you might ask. I've known the Princess for many years - (Over ten.WOW!) I can only say that it's a fun rewarding experence full of lots of WOW!!!! That's right. Kathy has always been WOW!! You just never know what to espect from her except that it will be an experence to remember all your life. Often i have looked back at our times together and exclaimed "WOW! What a gal!" One experence ,just to give you an idea of what a fun person Kathy is, is the time I remember when Kathy and I went to Sea World in San Diego for my 13th birthday.We had been running all over the place seeing the sites, when suddenly Kathy spotted a goose on a grassy hill nearby. "Hey! Wow! Let's go play with the goose" Kathy exclaimed. So off we went to chase the goose up and down the small hill. Well, the more we chased the goose,the madder he got and we loved every minute of it. (You know how kids can be!) Then suddenly the goose started chassing Kathy! He chassed her up a hill, but as she ran away from him she slipped and fell on the hill. (No doubt just to make me laugh.) The goose jumped on Kathy's back and started pecking on her head!!! It was the funniest thing I ever saw in my life. I tell you, that girl will do anything for a laugh.I was laughing so hard that i was crying just watching her lying there on her stomach with the goose on her back pecking at her head!And she was screaming "Help me!! Hes hurting me, please laurel, get him off!!" Wow! What an actress! She even started crying! Kathy has always had a great sense of humour. I still look back on that day and laugh whenever I'm feeling low. It just brightens my whole day.But thats not all Kathy has done to make me feel good. One of these days remind me to tell you about the time that Kathy was singing for me and she fell in a rosebush! What a laugh! And then there was the time she purposely slipped on the wet floor in the market and hurt her back. Yes, Kathy is just one WOW girl!!!!!!!!
