Introduction.

Hello fellow members of the International Kathy Fan Club and WOW people everywhere!

A few months ago I had the bright idea to have a continuing series of storys based on events in our childhood.

I never got around to putting anything together. Well, I am truly sorry if I disappointed anyone who was looking forward to the colume.

That was the main reason behind doing this book. Because I feel I should do something! As I got into putting this all together for you, I realized how amazing my sister really is. These photos were taken between 1975 through 1977, all by Boss Bongo Beatnik photographer - Eric Blum.

I do hope you like this vintage collection of photographs of your very own Princess Trina.
