

THE NEXT TWO WEEKS BELONG TO

US

OCTOBER 2, 1979 / 75 CENTS

Rock's hottest scandal: Chicago

Russia's dancing
defectors: how
they live and love

Biorhythms are bunk

A fan club for an unknown

With the International Kathy Fan Club, the Me-Decade has spilled over into satire. Founded two years ago by Kathy Frasca, 22, a North Hollywood, Calif., substitute school teacher, this is the first fan club devoted exclusively to an obscure non-celebrity—Kathy herself. For a trifling $6 a year (sent to 11730 Gilmore St., No. Hollywood, Calif. 91606), her 100 or so devotees get six newsletters updating the minutiae of Kathy's life (e.g., "Kathy Breaks Her Ankle!" followed by "Kathy Gets Her Cast Off!"). Now back in the classroom, Kathy is preparing her next message. Like her students' essays, the October bulletin will explore "What Kathy Did On Her Summer Vacation!"

CONNIE CZERWINSKY

Kathy and her greatest fan

ORK' AMS

oo far,
o fast?
is wife
says,
'He's
killing himself'

