

WET

FUTURE
FOOD
FASHION
RELATIONSHIPS

FUTURE
MUSIC
BATHING
RELIGION

"BETTER
LIVING THROUGH ECLECTICISM"

"IN THE FUTURE everybody will be famous for fifteen minutes," said Andy what's-his-name a long time ago. Well, it is the future now, and some people are starting to take his dictum to heart.

Kathy Frasca, for instance. Last year she unveiled the International Kathy Fan Club, dedicated to celebrating the triumphs and tribulations of young Kathy's turbulent life. For a measly $3 annual fee members of the fan club are sent bimonthly newsletters, photos, inside gossip, contests and special bonus treats concerning Kathy's latest adventures in the world at large. Discount prices on Kathy paraphernalia are also available.

Kathy goes to movies, listens to contemporary rock and roll, watches television news, and doesn't read: she's a very modern person. She offers "14 Secret Ways to Meet Kathy" ("6. Become famous and she'll ask to meet you."). She helps you understand your inner feelings with "Kathy's Love Test — Can You Pass It?" She helps you vent your unfocused creative urges with a Kathy connect-the-dots portrait. She offers hope: "Here's Your Chance To Win Your Phone Call From Kathy."

Dramas in Kathy's life unfold before your very eyes. "KATHY BREAKS HER ANKLE!!!" screams one of her newsletters, and "KATHY GETS HER CAST OFF!!" notes an update. A most interesting newsletter details, in Kathy's own words, how she helped in the birth of Alexandra Kathleen Mothersbaugh: "I couldn't stop crying! I don't know exactly why, but when the baby was born and they laid her on Maria's abdomen I started crying. The doctors started staring at me too, but I couldn't stop. It was so beautiful I don't think I've ever been moved by anything before. And I'm not even the one who had it. I can imagine what a mess I'll be when its me on that table!"

Why does Kathy go to the trouble of maintaining a fan club? "To have fun with my personality," she says. She is assisted in all matters by club secretary Laurel Sylvanus, who makes things run smoothly and promotes publicity.

Inquiries should be directed to International Kathy Fan Club, 11730 Gilmore, N. Hollywood, CA 91606, USA.